Vicky Devine is one of the leading female DJs to break out of the UK.... with her successful career taking her all over the world and which led to her becoming the weekly main room resident at one of the most popular and well known nights in Ibiza - Judgement Sundays. Also an established producer, TV and radio presenter and promoter, Vicky's hard work is testament to her love of all things dance music related and one of the reasons she continues to be at the forefront in today's EDM scene.

The History...

Vicky has been involved in music in some capacity throughout most of her life. Reaching Grade 6 in Piano and playing classical guitar throughout her school years, she was quickly enticed into the dance music world and has worked within the industry ever since. Beginning as a club reviewer and interviewer for a variety of dance music magazines, she then went on to work in various promotional roles for a number of UK based events. There was always a DJ inside though and she was soon behind the decks spending hours after college learning how to mix. This coupled with her passion for music, endless enthusiasm and her gritty determination has helped build her career and has made her one of the most established female DJ's and producers in the current dance music scene. As a result Vicky has gone on to wow fans in the UK and indeed around the world, with a reputation built on her uplifting yet driving sets which span a variety of genres and incorporate elements of trance, tech and progressive house. She has played at some of the biggest and most respected nights in the UK as well as on a worldwide level at clubs throughout Europe, Canada, Russia, South America, Mexico, Indonesia, Malaysia, Dubai, Australia and New Zealand to name but a few.

Ibiza...

Over the years Vicky has been a regular guest at many clubs and bars in Ibiza and this eventually led to her gaining a weekly main room residency at Judge Jules's massive JUDGEMENT SUNDAYS night at Eden (2005 - Present). Playing both the warm up and close down sets at the busiest night in San Antonio has meant her playing regularly alongside many of the leading names in today's scene, as well as establishing her name as one of the favourite Ibiza residents both with the DJ's and clubbers alike. Not forgetting Vicky's other Ibiza summer residency at UltraViolet which she also promotes. In fact Vicky is no stranger to promoting parties on the island having ran the equally successful all female DJ night "Charlys Angelz" for several years as well as helping in the promotions at several other Ibiza club nights. Vicky has also been a regular feature at the massive superclub "BCM" on the neighbouring Balearic island of Majorca, having played at a number of their large events including the Radio One Weekenders as well as on a weekly basis on the main upper floor throughout the summer months (2003 - 2009). Ibiza though is her second home, and it is here she loves to play. She is a well known face on the circuit here and continues to be involved in new projects on the island.

Production...

On the production front Vicky has also seen much success. She had early productions as part of collaborations released on Infectious Distribution, Solar Records and F Active Music, before moving onto working on solo productions and developing her own sound. She has gone on to have releases on some of today's biggest labels - most notably Spinnin, Fraction and Recoverworld, - and has had corresponding remixes from some of the scenes most recognizable names and emerging stars. Her tracks have been supported by the likes of Armin Van Buuren, Tiesto, Paul Van Dyk, Gareth Emery, Sean Tyas and Simon Patterson, have had amazing reviews in top music magazines IDJ, Mixmag and M8, have regularly reached high charting positions both in Beatport and Trackitdown, have had plays on some of the biggest Radio Shows and Podcasts and have featured on numerous mix compilations. Never one to rest on her laurels, Vicky's studio itinerary for 2012 is already jam packed with further exciting releases and collaborations on the way, and the coming year will also see the launch of her very own label.

Radio...

Radio has played a massive part in Vicky's career to date and is something she was involved with from a very early stage. Having provided Ibiza reports and interviews for several UK based stations, and having also hosted her own show on Ibiza dance music station Holiday FM, she also now has her own monthly radio show and podcast - Dual Velocity - in conjunction with Hayley Parsons. The show is broadcast worldwide on Sense FM, EDM Wales and Dancewebradio and is available to subscribe to and download as a podcast. She has also had several guest mixes and interview's on other high profile radio shows including Judge Jules's BBC Radio One Show, Woody Van Eyden and Alex Morph's Heavens Gate Show, Kiss FM, Eddie Halliwell's BBC Radio One Show, and on Judge Jules's Global Warm Up show, not to mention on several International Web Based Stations. In addition Vicky has been involved in television work with Rapture TV, MOS TV, Living TV and WTFI, and more recently she has become one of the presenters for Clubland TV in Ibiza, whereby she interviewed and presented for a range of high profile music and TV stars.

Some quotes from fellow DJs...

Vicky is one of the unsung heroes of trance in the UK & Ibiza
- Judge Jules on his Radio 1 show

I have been playing in Ibiza for years now at this stage and I have been with Judgement Sundays for the last six years. Each time Vicky Devine plays before I know I can arrive at the venue five minutes before my set knowing that she has done the perfect job. Vicky plays a perfect mix of quality grooves with euphoric breakdowns, none of which conflicts with what I want to do as a DJ.

Some quotes from fellow DJs...

Vicky has been our Judgement Sundays Ibiza resident for seven years and never fails to ignite the crowd. Her music style and persona behind the decks are second to none.

- Judge Jules

Vicky Devine is definitely one of the reasons why I enjoy DJing at Judgement Sundays in Ibiza so much, it's hard to find a DJ who can do a proper warm up set without taking anything away from the music I want to play in a club. I have stayed around to hear her closing set and it has just as much impact as her opening sets. If I was a promoter I would want her involved in my night!
